MessageSolution — Global Technology Leader in Enterprise Information Archiving and eDiscovery

Here at MessageSolution, 2012 has been a year of development and insight as we prepare for 2013 and the release of the MessageSolution 7.0 Platform. As we look back on the past year, we see an upward trend of creativity, exploration and expansion in our product development, client-base, and our MessageSolution team that positively reflect in the products and services we provide. According to the Gartner 2012 Magic Quadrant Report released last month, MessageSolution products are “are simple to deploy and manage, and easy to use (all cited by customers as important selection requirements). Customer satisfaction is high.” In addition to industry accolades, here are some of our 2012 highlights.

Advanced Archiving for Hosted Email Services

For clients who want the ultimate hands-off archiving experience, we began implementing comprehensive cloud archiving for hosted email services such as Office365, Google Apps, Live@Edu and more. MessageSolution Cloud Archiving and eDiscovery Services offer all the features and benefits of on-premise archiving but without the management responsibilities, storage requirements and high price tag.

Advanced eDiscovery Focus

In many cases, the handling of information archiving heavily influences any eDiscovery Requests. In 2012 we focused on promoting the integration of standard eDiscovery features and functions with the MessageSolution Platform making it affordable to all clients, Enterprise and SME alike. The eDiscovery Suite also provides a consul for legal management features, including Multiple Case Management, Case Authorization and more to manage the niche job of archiving for litigation support.

Growing the MessageSolution Family

In 2012 we welcomed some of our most active and exciting MSP and VAR partners including EVault and Savvis in addition to all our new and returning clients. 2012 also saw our MessageSolution team expand. Each fresh face adds a new perspective and unique voice to our team and to our relationships with our clients.

Archived Away - Information Archiving, Compliance & eDiscovery Management: The MessageSolution Blog

In favor of a more feature-rich experience, we are discontinuing our quarterly newsletter beginning 2013, and will instead be directing the content to the blog section on our website. Features will include MessageSolution news, new client, partner and industry news, client successes, individual feature mini-guides, video guides/webinars, regular giveaways, and more. Check our website for more information.
